SENATOR JAMES DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Passes Away in Baltimore and Buried at Marion.—Was Commanding Figure,

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 29.—Senator Ollie M. James, of Kentucky, died at Johns Hopkins Hospital this morning. The end came at 6:40 o'clock after a night of restlessness and suffering, followed by several hours of unconsciousness.

Whether the Senator himself, before he lapsed into the unconscious state from which he did not emerge, realized that he was about to die, those who were with him are not certain, but they are inclined to believe that he knew his life was but a matter of hours. Until an hour or so after last midnight Senator James' death was not expected, at least, not at this time.

At Hospital Since April.

He was a very ill man, stricken with a complication of diseases, the most serious of which was an advanced case of Bright's disease. He had been at Johns Hopkins Hospital since the middle of April, and there had been many changes, now for the better, now for the worse, and it became a matter of grave doubt as to whether he would ever be well again, even if he recovered sufficiently to enable him to leave the hospital and return to Marion, Ky., his home. That he would ever again resume his commanding position in the United States Senate was virtually despaired of some time ago, although the effort was made to keep from him the news that would have distressed him beyond any other personal misfortune.

Yesterday Senator James' condition was what it normally had been since he arrived in Baltimore. But after dinner last evening it was seen that he was not easy and about 8 o'clock he suffered a nervous chill. Mrs. James and his brother were with him at this time, and they remained until about 11 o'clock. At that time he apparently was resting with fair comfort, and they left him for the night. Mrs. James going to her boarding house, near the hospital, and Mr. James to the Southern Hotel.

Mrs. James is broken under the shock which has come after months that to her were hopeful, even though filled with anxiety. She had never believed that the Senator would not recover.

She had no fear that the end was near when she left him asleep last night.

FUNERAL AT MARION.

Marion, Ky., Aug. 30.—Marion is crowded today with people from all parts of the State gathered to pay the last tribute to Crittenden's distinguished son, the late Senator Ollie M. James, whose funeral will take place here this afternoon.

The town of Marion is in mourning and all business has been suspended. Never in the history of the Crittenden county capital has such a crowd appeared to honor the dead.

The funeral train bearing large numbers of distinguished Kentuckians, including Senator Beckham, Gov. Stanley and others, in addition to members of the House and Senate named to represent those bodies at the ceremonies, arrived here this morning and was met at the depot by a great concourse of people who had been coming into town from all the surrounding country.

DEFERRED CLASSIFICATION WANTED BY RAILWAY MEN.

Shops and train operations hampered by Draft, McAdoo Asserts.

Washington.—President Wilson was told today by Director General McAdoo that successful operation of the railroads demands that deferred classification be given most railroad employees, and that those actually taken into army service should be conserved for military railroad service in France to lessen the drain on railroad personnel. Mr. McAdoo submitted many reports showing how railway shops and train operations have been hampered recently by the drafting of necessary employees.

The Railroad Administration hopes to have Provost Marshal Gen. Crowder establish a rule providing that the request of a railroad executive for deferred classification of an employee shall act automatically to prevent immediate drafting of the employee.

The railroads' programme for employing thousands of women to replace men taken into the army will be directed by a woman, Miss Pauline Goldmark, of New York, who today was appointed manager of the Railroad Administration's Women's Service Section. She will give special consideration to the employment of women telegraphers, station agents, clerks, crossing watchers and even track laborers.

BEGIN SCHOOL BEFORE SEPTEMBER 16th.

Mrs. W. L. Mills, county agent for the Illiteracy Commission, requests that all teachers who have pledged to teach midnight schools, who possibly can, to begin their schools before the sixteenth of September, so she can visit as many schools as possible. Mrs. Mills cannot be in the county very much after this date and she wishes to make a personal visit to as many schools as is practicable. Mrs. Mills recently visited the colored school at Beaver Dam and gave an address. Prof. R. D. Newton, the principal of that school, is thoroughly in sympathy with the moonlight schools, and is preparing to start a school in his community. He is a graduate of Lincoln Institute and is abreast of all the enterprise that tend to educational progress.

Every teacher in the county, and especially those who have pledged, should begin a crusade immediately against illiteracy and before the present school term ends, Ohio county can be almost if not entirely free from this blot on her citizenship. But this can be accomplished only by the earnest co-operation of patrons and teachers, in urging everyone who cannot read and write to attend these schools and make the best of their opportunities.

Man Power Measure Signed Calling All Between the Ages of 18 and 45 Years, Inclusive

AND WILL AFFECT 13,000,000 MEN

Washington, Aug. 31.—Thursday, September 12, was set today by President Wilson as the date for registration for the army draft of all men in the United States between the ages of 18 and 45, inclusive, who have not already registered, or who are not now in the military or naval service.

In a proclamation issued immediately after he signed the new man-power bill authorizing extension of the 21-21 draft ages, the President called on the younger and older men to enroll on that day with local draft boards where they make their permanent homes.

"We solemnly purpose a decisive victory of arms," said the President, "and deliberately to devote the larger part of the military man power of the nation to the accomplishment of that purpose. It is the call to duty to which every true man in the country will respond with pride and with the consciousness that in doing so he plays his part in vindication of a great cause, at whose summons every true heart offers in supreme service."

BIG LAWSUIT ON.

Thirty-eight cases are on docket for the next term of Circuit Court, to date. One of the chief cases to be tried is that of R. B. Eastan, father of May Eastan, who was killed in the automobile accident on the pike, against E. P. Barnes and Company for $15,000. In filing his suit, Mr. Eastan alleges that the accident was caused by the careless driving of Mr. Barnes' employee, and failure on his part to give a signal, when the dust was so thick he could distinguish no one at a distance of three hundred feet. This promises to be one of the most hotly contested lawsuits ever held here.

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

We are in receipt of a beautiful announcement card, giving September, 5th, as the day for the celebration of the silver wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. J. Russell Crawford, at the First Presbyterian church at Pikeville, Ky.

Mrs. Crawford is the daughter of Judge A. B. Baird and lived most of her younger days at Hartford. She was married to Rev. Crawford, a prominent Presbyterian minister, many years ago, and has lived away from here most of the time since then.

After twenty-five years of blissful married life, drifting with the rising and ebbing tides of fortune, this couple can now look back upon the years spent together as a happy memory and a sacred experience. The Herald extends its warmest felicitations.

SECOND OHIO COUNTY TO FALL IN FRANCE.

SERG. EDDIE LEE

The above likeness of Sgt. Eddie Lee, son of Mrs. Sarah Lee, of Route 1, was made in front of the McKinley monument at Canton, Ohio. Sgt. Lee had been in the army about 15 years, and has a brother, Monroe Lee, who was sent from here in the draft, November in a military camp.

4,500 NOMINATIONS MADE BY PRESIDENT.

Washington.—Nominations of nearly 2,000 postmasters for cities, towns and villages in all parts of the country were sent to the Senate today by President Wilson. Most of the nominees are present postmasters continued in office for another term.

Among the cities where postmasters were renominated are:

Kentucky—Bowling Green, Paris, Louisville, Henderson, Mayfield, Owensboro and Paducah.
Indiana—Decatur, Evansville, Kokomo, Logansport, Marion, Ellettsville, South Bend, Terre Haute, Wabash, Warsaw and Vincennes.

The number of nominations transmitted today by the President was believed by veteran Senate employees, broke all records for a single day. Besides the 2,000 postmaster nominations, the President also tendered those of about 2,500 army and navy officers, mostly posthumous in the lower grades.

LIGHTNING MELTS AXLE: GIRLS IN BUGGY UNHURT.

A FINE PEAR.

Mr. R. A. Duke, of Sunnydale, brought into this office a pear, Tuesday, which was placed in a conspicuous place and has kept the editor's month watering since it made its arrival. The pear is of the Kelter variety and weighs 1 1/2 pounds. It is unusually large and well developed, being the largest pear we have ever seen of this kind. It looks to be very toothsome and if the rest of the force ever relax their vigilance, we are going to investigate.

MAJOR DEWESE SENT TO WEST POINT

Former Ohio County Superintendent Returned to Kentucky
With His Command.

Says the Louisville Times, regarding the 31th Cavalry, commanded by Major J. M. DeWese, who was since formerly Superintendent of Ohio County schools, and was Captain of 31st Cavalry, when it was a National Guard unit. For some time a Major in the regular army.

"Approximately 230 Louisville residents will be returned to Kentucky when the 31th Cavalry, now stationed at Fort Riley, Kas., arrives at the field artillery range near West Point. The cavalry brigade will be split into two artillery regiments.

A large part of the 31th Cavalry is made up of soldiers from this city who were called in the April draft. They left here for Fort Thomas on May 1 and were assigned to the cavalry brigade at Fort Riley. The entire regiment is ordered to report at the artillery range for duty at once.

The troops are led by a Louisville man, Mr. J. M. DeWese. The 31st Cavalry from Bel Air, Md., who are sent to the range to be trained as artillerymen and another brigade is to come from Fort D. A. Russell.

The following are some of the Louisville men in the 31st Cavalry: Sgt. Merle Hogan, son of a former police Capt. Mike Hogan; Layton Davis, well-known merchant; George Sullivan, Maria Miller, grandson of Henry Watterson; George Welsh, John Kennedy and Ray Ulrich.

PASSES PHYSICAL EXAMINATION.

County Attorney A. D. Kirk was examined last Thursday by Dr. E. B. Pendleton for admittance to the Artillery Officers Training school at Louisville. Mr. Kirk has made application, and if this is accepted, he will become a candidate for commission as a Second Lieutenant. He passed a good examination and will doubtless be admitted to the school. Mr. Kirk is one among the thousands of young men who are going up responsible positions and volunteering for service in the army. Many thousands of officers will be needed in the gigantic new army which is being created and we trust our County Attorney will be successful in his endeavor.

BEAUTIFULNESS OF THE GERMAN.

The following is the rendering of Christ's beautiful Beatitudes Germanized. Frederick William Nietzsche, the Hun madman and father of the present German Kultur, was very antagonistic to Christianity, declaring it to be "the most contemptible system ever tested upon mankind—destroying all its best qualities and enslaving him with its enfeebling ethical philosophy." His book "Thus Spake Zarathustra" is read everywhere in Germany as a Bible. From him the Huns have learned to despise the Christ and His teaching. The following extracts are taken from "Thus Spake Zarathustra":

"Ye have heard how in olden times it was said, 'Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth'; but I say unto you 'Blessed are the valiant, for they shall make the earth their throne.' And ye have heard men say, 'Blessed are the poor in spirit'; but I say unto you 'Blessed are the great in soul and the free in spirit, for they shall enter into Valhalla.' And ye have heard men say, 'Blessed are the peace-makers'; but I say unto you, 'Blessed are the war makers, for they shall be called, if not the children of Jehovah, the children of Odin, who is greater than Jehovah.'"

FROM 'SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE.'

July 30th, 1918.
Mr. D. S. Rhoads and Family.
Beaver Dam, Ky.
Dear Father, Mother and Sisters:
Only a few lines to let you know I am well again and getting along fine. I am leaving the hospital tomorrow to join my company again. I haven't received any mail since I have been in the hospital but guess I will have a lot when I get back to my company.
I have been sick for about six weeks. That seems like a year to be away from my co., but you know how glad I will be to get back to the boys I know.
Just think—it has been almost a year since I left the States but I am sure if I live I will be back in less than another year. For we are sure cleaning up on Old Fritz, I guess you see in the paper what we are doing and that isn't half what we are going to do before it is over.
Tell all the boys if they want to help us, they had better hurry and come over or they won't get a chance to see or do anything at all. What is Oswald's address? Is he over here yet? If he is I would like very much to see him and Sidney, too.
I hope this letter finds all of you in the best of health and enjoying yourselves. I will close for this time.

With love and best wishes,
GUY RHODS.

Of this number 20,000 are urgently needed for the field artillery, 2,000 for the engineers and 600 for the Quartermaster's Department, he said.

The plan as outlined by Major Orton contemplates the induction into the student's army training corps of all men of draft age who register as members of the student bodies. Division into two classes, A and B, will then be made. In the former will be placed men having completed a grammar school course for special training, while in Class B will be placed those who have completed high school courses. Intensive military instruction and special collegiate work will be given them.

SOME GOOD ADVICE.

Strengthened by Hartford Experiences

Kidney disease is too dangerous to neglect. At the first sign of backache, headache, dizziness, or urinary disorders, you should give the weakened kidneys prompt attention. Eat little meat, take things easier and use a reliable kidney tonic. There's no other kidney medicine so well recommended as Donn's Kidney Pills. Hartford people rely on them. Here's one of the many statements from Hartford people:

E. L. Ashley, farmer, Griffin St., Hartford, says: "I consider Donn's Kidney Pills a reliable kidney medicine. I suffered with backache and too frequent action of my kidneys. This medicine helped my kidneys, relieved my back and made me feel better generally."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Donn's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Ashley had. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Advertisement.

SALVATION ARMY'S WORK AT FRONT.

American Soldiers Wonderful in Their Treatment of Us, Writes Girl From Battle Zone.

Hopkinsville, Ky.—The American soldiers are wonderful in their treatment of us. They couldn't be more courteous, and, in fact, their attitude is almost reverent. That is the way Miss Alice McAllister, a Salvation Army girl, who, with her sister, is now working right up at the front in France, writes to a friend here in Hopkinsville, where she has visited many times and participated in services and exercises held under Salvation Army auspices. Her letter, dated July 12, is very interesting, detailing as it does from a woman's viewpoint the experiences she has undergone. But her enthusiasm over the American soldiers is the best of all. She says:

"Alice and I have been over here for quite some time in charge of one of our Salvation Army huts, and we have been closer to the front lines than any other women have ever been. Right under shell fire, where things are lively, and where we can be of most service to the boys as they come out of the trenches all hot and tired and weary and ready almost to die.

Delicacies for Soldiers.
"If you could see us dealing out gallons and gallons of hot chocolate and cakes or orangeade or lemonade of something of the kind, and dealing out all kinds of things that boys love to eat, making doughnuts, etc., and doing all this comprising about fourteen hours a day, then you can realize just how very tired we must get and how little time we have for writing letters.

"Our boys have been wonderful and I only wish you folk at home could see them as I see them every day. They are so gentlemanly, so big and brave and fearless, and so absolutely American that one's heart fairly jumps with pride.

"Alice and I have been all alone up here, where no civilians (all families have evacuated the place), and only hundreds of soldiers live. Here we work all day doing all we can for the boys and in the evenings having special entertainment for them. Sometimes it is a musical program, and sometimes music and readings combined, and sometimes it is an evening of child-games and it would do your heart good to see these big fellows playing and heartily enjoying blind man's bluff—Mike, where are you, and Jacob and Rachel. Other evenings we have services and the boys enjoy them as much, if not more, than the entertainments. They seem so anxious to attend and are so attentive and interested and many of them have been converted.

"These things put new life into the boys. The change after spending days and days in the trenches, where they can't even lift their heads above the trench in the day time, is wonderful and seems to revive and hearten them for the next siege.

Sleeping in Dugouts.
"Then after this strenuous day is over we retire to a couple of army cots that are placed in a cellar under the house for everybody here sleeps in dugouts on account of shells and bombs. The Boche aeroplanes are quite active in dropping bombs all over the country. But can you imagine us, the only two women up here with only soldiers around us! Well, that is true and to a vivid imagination, but do you know that we feel as safe as in our own sweet home? The American soldiers are wonderful in their treatment of us. They couldn't be more courteous, and in fact their attitude is almost reverent. They wouldn't allow any harm to come to us for anything in the world, and I know if anyone ever tried to say a word out of the way he wouldn't last long, they'd simply mob him.

"I wish I could tell you all about this wonderful place and the war and all connected with it, for I know just how intensely interested in it all of you are, and I can just see you there every evening sitting together reading about the victories of the Americans, and the allies in general, and also of the Germans. But the Germans haven't had any victories lately.

"I would love to hear you talk about this subject and get your idea of it all. I know it would be like heaven to hear you and everything you would say would be so intensely worth while. It would be like heaven to slip into your sweet, honey, comfy room away from all this war and hatred and guns and noise and see you and Miss Maria with your dear companion reading and talking and having your prayers together."

Life now may be "just one drive" after another—but we're driving the right way!

THEY SHALL NOT WIN!

They shall not pass! Although with fell design The Prussian lords their wolfish legions hurl Against embattled Freedom's dauntless line— Where waves the standard Might shall never fail; For to the last man and the utmost year America, aroused, will wage the fight To break the treacherous tyrant's murderous spear And rive his scepter with the sword of Right. They shall not win! For Freedom's lusty sons

With ceaseless energy construct and delve. The woodman toils, and to outstrip the flimsy His ringing ax he hurries to the helve. The singing saws resound; swift hammers heat The red-hot rivets home, and down the ways Great ships glide bravely, fashioned to defeat The madman who has set the world ablaze.

They shall not win! For men love Freedom's grace And scorn the fetters of each cringing slave, Linked to the monarch of satanic fame Who blasphemes God to heaven's architrave. The splendor horror from the diadem That lights the tinsel of his tawdry throne Pales 'neath the radiance of the priceless gem Of Liberty whose glory is our own.

They shall not win! For God is true and just, And through His valiant children He will smite The savage hordes whose piracy and lust Have plunged the outraged world in hideous night. At Freedom's frontiers in the fields of France Our sons remember their avenging guns And in the holy name of Christ advance To overwhelm the sacrilegious Huns!

HOPELESS DESPAIR GIRLS' GERMAN.

The German retirement is continuing along many parts of the battle front.

The English are overwhelming the enemy's rear guards in heavy fighting.

Reports indicate that at least one counter-attack has been broken up by the British artillery concentrating its fire on massed enemy troops. Many letters taken from prisoners and dead Germans indicate that hopeless despair is beginning to prevail on the German side of the line. A letter written home by a German who was stationed in a town which has now been captured said:

"The war has been lost for some time. Only those high up are falling to admit it."

The letter added: "Oh, poor Germany. Only the dead at the front have forgotten this swindle."

Another letter said: "This cannot last much longer." While still another German wrote: "Our losses greatly exceed all the drafts. Germany is sure to lose very soon."

It is a fact that many letters taken from prisoners, whether written by them to be posted home, or received by them from civilians in the interior of Germany, are in the same vein. One German in Berlin chided his brother at the front about making rapid progress to the rear. He then predicted that the war was surely coming to an end, and that, with his allies, he was making an economic war, Germany would be ruined. Many of these letters were written before the British began their drive.

STUDENTS' ARMY TRAINING CORPS.

The Students' Army Training Corps is the name given to the military organization to be perfected in the colleges this fall.

All able-bodied students in the college where a corps is organized may enroll or enlist. The enlisted student does not receive pay, because he is on inactive service. He is, however, in the military service of the United States. He may attend camp for six weeks, during summer, when he receives pay. His relation to the draft:

"Two days" is over but we still have the printers.

John Barleycorn's days are numbered—and they are less than three hundred and sixty-five.

The memory of the war will soon be like the ripe grapes are withered on the vine and the watermelons are no more.

Amazingly, a person who has experienced conversion is a person who is a person who has experienced conversion a convict?

The rain has been getting more rain than we bargained for. The rain and hail have given the stopper out of the loggia and can't get it back again.

The war has left the fellows above the "1917" draft who have been "drafted" to go, who will now either be a dependent grandchild or be a man of war to keep him from leaving his country.

A young soldier in Ohio community while he is by the coffin of his sweetheart. Just a little more interest, such as are played each day between the greater and the lesser of the life.

Many boys are getting married before they go across. Maybe they think that when they get through over there they will be so fond of scrapping they will not want to quit, and so they take them by the forelock.

After the war, we are going to set down to a future porthouse steak, smothered in rich brown sauce, with a small salad, bread as big as a saucer, and a pound of white sugar in a teapot of grandma coffee—after the war.

The Government is going to draft one million unskilled laborers into the necessary war industries.
A great many men are going to suddenly learn that the job they have worked at all their lives really wasn't necessary after all.

Thousands of gallons of burning whiskey poured into the Ohio, like a liquid stream, when the distillery burned in Owensboro last week.
If the folks down near the mouth

they will know the reason.

The Hartford Republican devoted so much valuable(?) space last we are tempted to believe it was a

Registration of all men from 18 to 45 will take place Thursday, Sept.
12. Now, some of the old scouts, who were "out of it" because of age, and who have been itching to get a whack at the Kaiser, will have the opportunity of showing just what kind of mettle is in them.

Col. Henry Watterson is being mentioned as a possible candidate for the Senate. It would be a boon to the journalistic profession to see a newspaper man in the Senate, especially a brilliant one like "Maree Henry." If nominated, we are for him, "teeth and toe-nails."

The Hopkinsville Kentuckian is to be sold because the owner cannot find sufficient help to run it, all his younger men having been called into service. He advises this as his chief reason for selling. We admire his honesty, but cannot help but think that this will have a discouraging effect upon prospective purchase, unless he can secure a force who are all exempt.

The Americans are the nearest to Berlin, of all the Allied troops, says a news dispatch. In their section southeast of Lunenburg, in the Alsace, Lorraine country, they have already crossed the German boundary. Though few people know it, some of the hardest fighting of the war have been fought in German owned territory. Especially the battle of Hagen, in the early part of the war.

It is not always easy to get into the army as a Lieutenant, captain or General. But if one is willing to go with the "common herd," only age or physical weakness can deter him. If Colonel Roosevelt or any of them other patriots who are "draining to go," will lose their vision of the commoner-in-chief's shoulder-straps we are dollars to doughnuts they can be on the firing line in a day.

We are in receipt of two copies of The Stars and Stripes, the official publication of the American Expeditionary Forces in France. It is one of the best news papers we have yet read and though one of its articles are written under the pen of the German press its movement is exceedingly good and would per to shame many newspapers that are gotten up in the place and quite of an American office.

The soldiers in France, who before they crossed over were mostly sport fans of some description, have created a hearty disgust and contempt for professional sports who shun service in the army, to such an extent that they have removed the sport page from their official publication. While the American people enjoy a good game, their patrioticism is being taxed to the limit by those players who file frivolous exemption claims on the ground that baseball is a "necessary" recreation.

After his long illness, Senator Oma James has returned back to his old home in Kentucky they brought his body and it was interred in the grave-yard where rest the ashes of his ancestors. He was a great man in every respect.
Reason and logic to the best principles of democracy, with only the love of his country at heart, he stood forth as a commanding figure, a man to be admired and emulated.
His loss is a great loss to his party,
his state and his nation.

The Fourth Liberty Loan is soon to be launched. The government is calling for the largest amount of money it has ever asked of the American people. And it is a time just now when every effort should be put forth to prosecute the war to a successful conclusion. Our armies are pressing the Hun back, our boys are being called to the colors, and the nerves of America are being strung to high tension. Let the overabundance of the Fourth Loan be a thunderous answer to the Kaiser that the American people are ready to go any length to win the war.

A prophet is not without honor save in his own country. Recently a bridge was built over the Loire, in France, dedicated to President Wilson. There has long been a custom in France of erecting a public building or bridge and dedicating it to the man most elevated in world opinion. Abroad, President Wilson is the foremost figure in world-diplomacy. Kings and courts wait upon his word. In only two places in the world are there fanatical critics of his actions—in America and Germany. While the great body of thinking Americans are behind him heart and soul, there are a few whose prejudices have so narrowed their vision that they could look through a keyhole with both eyes at once, who persistently criticize and find fault. Free, constructive criticism is alright, and is helpful; but low partisan expressions are odious.
Only recently we heard a road-hand say, "There is nothing but hog-brains in the White House or in Congress."

HUN'S LOSE FAITH IN GOTT.

Mrs. Lucille Babbitt, of 1942 Argyle street, furnishes the lion's share of the war's turning point in a quotation from a letter from her brother, Sergeant Howard F. Colt, of the Twenty-ninth Engineers. The letter was written in a French town which a few days previously was held by Germans. A German prisoner was being questioned by a Frenchman.

"Do you still think God is with you?" asked the Frenchman.
"Yes," said the prisoner. "God is with us—but the Yanks are with you."—Chicago Tribune.

FARMERS' ATTENTION!

The Hartford National Farm Loan Association is now authorized to accept from bona fide farmers applications for loans on farming lands,
SITUATED ANYWHERE IN OHIO COUNTY.

You can borrow 50 per cent. of the appraised value of your land, provided said per cent does not exceed $10,000.00. Loans are made for periods of from 5 to 24 1/2 years and the rate of interest is 5 1/2 per cent. Payment is made on the AMORTIZATION plan, i. e., payment of a certain fixed amount each 4 months, which will be approximately $1.25 per hundred dollars, which includes both interest and principal, and will be sufficient to pay off the whole loan, principal and interest, at the end of the time for which the loan is made.

An application fee of $5.00 for a loan of $1,000.00 or less and $5c for each additional $500.00 must accompany the application. Each applicant must pay in advance the estimated cost of appraisement of his land, which will probably be from $2.50 to $5.00, depending on the location. Each applicant must furnish an abstract of title, prepared by the Abstracter selected by the Association and approved by the bank, which will cost him $15.00 per tract, plus the cost of copying, which will average $3.00 per abstract.

The next appraisement will begin Oct. 1. Farmers desiring a loan should apply to McDowell A. Fogie, Secretary-Treasurer, Hartford, for an application blank and any other desired information.

THE SOLDIER'S MOTHER.

My pen falters in the presence of this subject—the soldier's mother.
The thought of Mother always transforms me into a better man.
Mighty is the unending influence of Mother.

On the blue mountains of our land, distant childhood you and I can look back and see the path that Mother marked out for us. And how far from the way we have gone.
Oh, what a wonderful gift God made to the world when He sent the mother to men!

Somewhere I have read something about the sins of fathers being visited on their children.

Somewhere in France the victims of mothers accompany the American army.

Somewhere in France the wireless of affection is working right now between mother and son.

A mother's gentle, sincere and silent prayer goes straight to the throne of God and then back to her boy. It can't miss.

You tell me heaven is a long way off, and it is if a boy's mother is there.

Do you know, I believe one letter from a mother to her soldier son is worth more than a sermon from Cape Cod to Cape Colony.

If a boy, in this terrible struggle, should forget his God during a fight and only remember his mother when wounded or dying, I am just enough acquainted with God to be able to assure the boy that it will be well with his soul.

In this war there is one human task that makes the supreme sacrifice—
the soldier's mother.

HINDEN, HELL OR HOBOKEN

Americans, As They Go Over the Top.

London.—Direct from a visit to the front, Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, voiced confidence today that the war will end within a year hence.

He expressed satisfaction over the way the American army is going after the Germans and revealed the growing fear of America that is making the German blood run cold.

Senator Lewis consented to write the following impressions exclusively for Universal Service:

By James Hamilton Lewis.

London, August 28.—Unstinted praise for the American soldier is heard everywhere on the front from the lips of allied officers.

I must pay tribute to the men from Illinois. I do not take credit away from any other units, but our people must know that the French would not have won the victory because the Illinois men went in that victory because of Chateau Thierry.

They broke the German advance in a counter-attack and drove the Germans to retreat. That was the first brilliant defeat for the Germans. At the British front, at Arras (southeast of Albert), where the German fight held out longest against the British onslaught at the opening of the Meuse drive, it was the Illinois men—the First and Second Regiments from Chicago—that led the victorious attack.

Looks Amaze British Veteran. Peter Colonel Sandborn they took the high ground right under the noses of the German cannon. They captured these cannon and made hundreds of German prisoners.

So magnificent was this American dash to victory that the English commander, a veteran of the East Indian and Egyptian campaigns, said to me:

"I wouldn't have sent my men into that attack. It seemed impossible to take the hill." Sandborn was Brigadier General and given a medal of high distinction by the British.

A wonderful, a noble spirit lives in these boys from Illinois. I visited them and mingled with them on every front. I saw them in the trenches and in the dugouts.

They make you think of fellows who go out preparatory to a hunt for wild animals. I saw that they had every comfort and better food than can be obtained in city hotels. They are given every care.

In the hospitals the wounded are cared for as if they were back in their homes. They recover rapidly, and all are in great haste to get back to fight. They cry out as a chorus: "Hell, heaven or Hoboken; then Paradise—Illinois."

The names of your young men are heard everywhere. Colonel Robert McCormick, Joe Medill Patterson, Colonel Kelly and Captain Johnson of Kelly's battery, are with the bravest of others setting an example of valor and noble conduct.

Parents can be proud of her fighting men in France.

Now the Australians pay the tribute that the Americans go it too tough and "kill everything at once."

The Germans fear defeat and heavier German prisoners confess that their commanders say that the result is with America, and America's fighting will change all previous estimates of the Germans in Germany. They admit further that it is necessary to recover from the defeat inflicted on Germany in the very first test of the Americans or the German people will be crushed in sight.

They had been taught that Americans could not be reckoned with as an independent force, but merely as "mercenaries of the British."

The present drive and its success will be continued by the increase of American soldiers, lose Germany every inch of ground previously gained in France and will mark the beginning of an advance on German soil. The cry of the American soldier at the front is:

"On to Berlin."

Complete Unity Everywhere. The most noticeable thing to me is the unity with which the Americans work and co-operates with the British and French on the field. The Americans are new at this work and at harmonizing themselves with other nationalities. Germany has circulated statements through her army that the Americans would not work and not obey French orders. The French say the conduct of the Americans is winning the war a year before they had hoped for success.

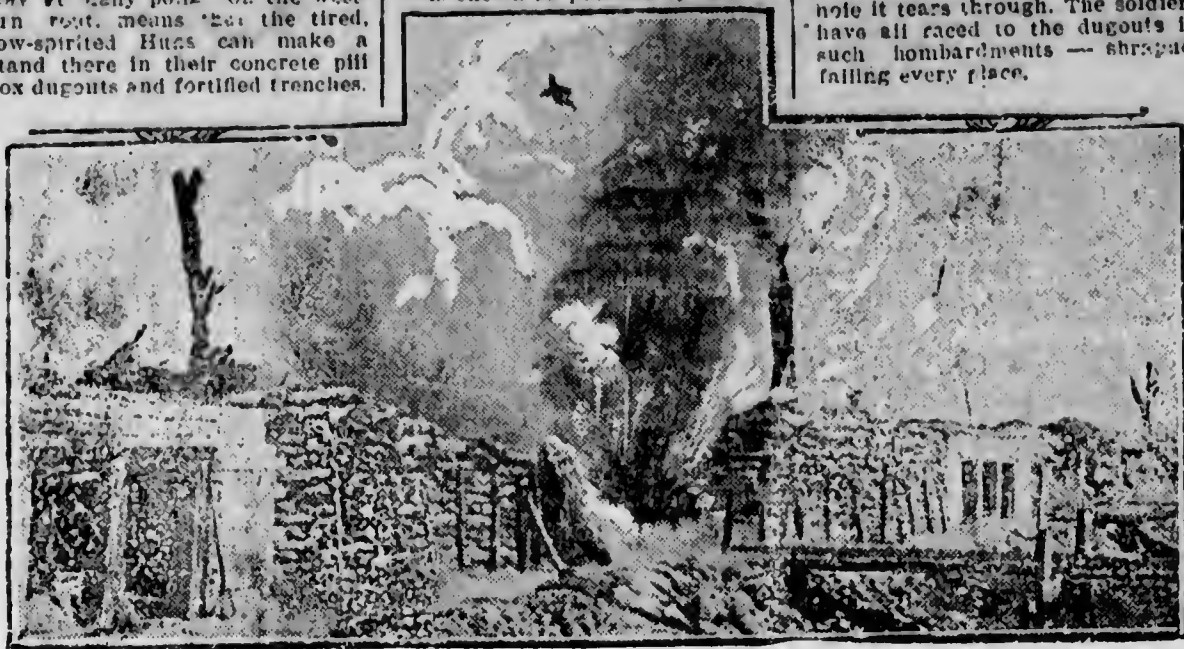

The health of our troops is a wonder—the food, comfort and care excels that which any of them get in any city. All are content.

The only fear revolves around the ignorance of the Americans to finish the job.

BACK ON THE HINDENBURG LINE

Falling back onto the Hindenburg line, which is already under way at many points on the western front, means that the tired, low-spirited Huns can make a stand there in their concrete pill box dugouts and fortified trenches.

But that Foch and his Allied warriors will blast their way through—is shown as possible by this exceptional photo of the explosion of a "whiz-bang"—(big shell) in a first line trench and the big hole it tears through. The soldiers have all raced to the dugouts in such bombardments—shrapnel falling every place.

If Your Paper Is Cut Off-- Read the Reason Below,

Below is given the new government regulations regarding county weeklies, in its campaign for the conservation of newsprint paper. If your paper is cut off, you will know the reason why. Much as we desire to continue sending your paper, knowing that your failure to pay up is only oversight on your part, we cannot do so when Uncle Sam says stop it. Read below:

To publishers of country weekly newspapers: The Priorities Board of the War Industries Board has listed paper mills as an essential industry, and has rated them in fourth class for priority for coal on the distinct understanding that the greatest possible economy in the use of paper be exercised and that the reduction in the use of paper by the newspapers shall be 15 per cent.

Paper mills will be put upon the priority list for coal, conditional upon their signing a pledge that they will furnish no paper to any customer who will not also sign a pledge in duplicate that he will exercise the greatest possible economy in the use of paper, and will observe all rules and regulations of the conservation division and of the pulp and paper section of the War Industries Board. These pledges are now being prepared and will be furnished shortly.

The war committee of weekly newspaper publishers feels that the necessary saving of 15 per cent should come out of the industry as a whole, and in order to accomplish this purpose make the following suggestions, which were accepted by the pulp and paper section of the War Industries Board, and are to be effective September 1, 1918.

Each publisher shall eliminate the following wasteful practices. If for any reason a publisher desires to continue any of these practices, he must adopt some other method to accomplish at least a 15 per cent reduction in paper used. If by November 1, 1918, a saving of 15 per cent has not been made in the industry as a whole, the matter will be reviewed by the pulp and paper section and further curtailments will be necessary.

1. No publisher of a weekly, semi-weekly, or triweekly newspaper shall use in its production any paper except newsprint and of a weight on the basis of not heavier than 30 1/2 by 44—50-pound (basis—24 by 36—32 pounds). All stocks now on hand may be used whether newsprint, machine-finished or sized and supercalendered and regardless of weight.

2. No publisher may continue subscriptions after three months after date of expiration, unless subscriptions are renewed and paid for.

3. No publisher may give free copies of his paper, except for actual service rendered; except to camp libraries and huts or canteens or organizations recognized by the Government, such as the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., or K. of C.; except to the Library of Congress and other libraries which will agree to bind for permanent keeping; except to Government department libraries which use said publications in their work; and except for similar reasons.

4. No publisher shall give free copies to advertisers, except not more than one copy each for checking purposes.

5. No publisher shall accept the return of unsold copies from news dealers.

6. No publisher shall print extra copies for stimulating advertising or subscriptions, or for any uses other than those specified in these regulations, except not to exceed 1 per cent of his circulation with a minimum of 10 copies.

7. No publisher shall send free copies in exchange for other publications, except to such other publications as are printed within the county, or within a radius of 40 miles from his point of publication.

8. No publisher shall sell his publication at an exceedingly low or nominal subscription price.

9. No publisher shall sell his publication to anyone below the publisher subscription price.

10. No publisher shall offer premium price is put upon the premium for sale separately and the combined price is at least 75 per cent of the sum of the individual prices.

11. No publisher shall conduct voting or other contests for the purpose of obtaining subscriptions; subscriptions obtained in this way will not be considered bona fide subscriptions.

12. No publisher may issue holiday, industrial, or other special editions.

13. Publishers shall, so far as possible, procure paper and all other materials from the nearest available source of supply, provided it is consistent with price, quality, and service.

SELECTIVE SERVICE SHARES ITS GLORY.

Every male citizen of America is a member of the American Military Service. A fighting or non-fighting member. He is never released from it. Exemption does not remove him.

Exemption, let every American man realize, is not a right to be demanded, or a gift to be sought.

Exemption is a judgment against a man, it means he is not fit for the fighting front. His country can not use him there. It has better men.

Exemption cares not whether a man's weakness is physical or economic, it bars him from military service. It sets him aside because military standards admit only the strongest, best men to the important business of beating the Hun.

Exemption grades a man below the class of fighting men.

Selective Service picks him out, and lifts him to the highest class of American manhood. It stamps him from his toes to the top of his head.

Selective Service crowns an American with the greatest honor a country can confer.

Our country now calls them to come forward and register on the Selective Service Roll.

Our country needs something more than two million fighters to make up the five million army that will hurl the Hun to his knees in his own lair.

American men 18 to 45 years old (both inclusive, except those previously registered,) will furnish the new army to swell the old.

Here is that chance of glory kept from these classes of men.

Their first duty is quick response to their country's command to register.

America will register these men—there are 13,000,000 of them—on a single day in September. Your country requires a willing speed.

Patriots will register at once. Others must, or pay the penalty.

Do your part to make America's peace drive go forward with a rush by being the first to register on Selective Service Registration Day.

Patriots will register. Others must.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM A SOLDIER.

The following letter was written by Mr. Ray W. Bennett, who is with the 332 Field Artillery, in France, to his sister, Mrs. Leamon Lake. It will be read with interest by his many friends in Ohio county.

July 8th, 1918.

Dear Sister: Will now attempt to write you. Pardon me for not writing sooner for I have been pretty busy and secrecy must be maintained, so can't tell you very much about what we are doing. Therefore there isn't much to write but think of you all every day. Wish I could be there and have a romp with the children, but maybe this thing will soon be over and I can come back; hope so at least. Am getting along fine, getting plenty to eat, but this is too far from home to suit me. Yet I try to keep my mind on my work for I have a lot to learn yet before I am a soldier. Think there is more in the "Artillery" than the "Infantry" and I like it much better. We have a good bunch of officers is one great help.

We were several days on the way over and I got tired, but yet the scenery was great and soon got rested after landing. I find things much better than I really expected. Did not get a bit sea sick but some of the others did. There are about twenty of the home fellows in this regiment that went to camp the day I did. So guess I will get to go through with them. I have seen Corbet Lake since I landed. Never was so glad to see any one, but don't know where he is just now. Hope to see him again soon. Am very anxious now to hear from some of you, for haven't had a letter since I left Camp Taylor. After we get the mail started it won't be so bad. How is everything with you all? Hope you have good crops. Kiss the children for me. Did you get my "traveling bag"? I sent it some time ago. Do what ever you want to with it for I may never get to it again, but I feel like I will get back safe. If I do it will be a great trip for me. Don't worry about me for am doing alright now and if I have to go that way it is still no use to worry. Everything seems odd to us now but guess we will soon get use to it. These French treat us mighty good and try to talk to us but we can't understand anything they say and don't follow it. How can. Does mother seem to worry much about me being over here? Don't think she should. Think now if I ever get back to U. S. A. I will never want to run around any more, but I may change by the time I get there.

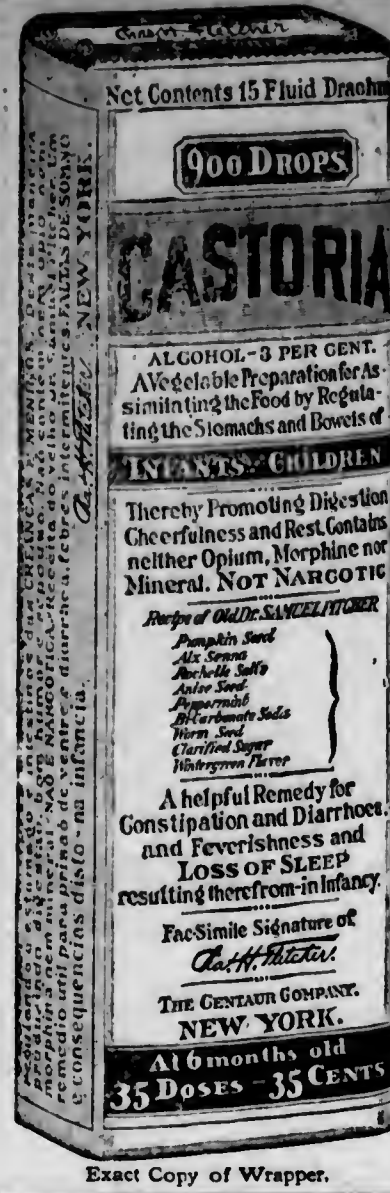

Guess they have taken lots more of the boys from there to camp, have they not? Never thought I would come across so soon when I enlisted, but am ready to do, my bit, for couldn't have done any good there. How is every body there? Write me a long newsy letter as soon as you get this and don't wait for me to write, for see I haven't much to tell and would be glad to hear from you every week. Don't think my address will be changed but yet you put your return address on all mail. I will just have to wait and tell you all about my trip when I get with you again. Well don't think of any more to write now. So will close, hoping to see you soon. Now don't forget to write me often. Give every body my best regards.

With love to you,

RAY.

quisitioned for this relief work alone is estimated at 1,125,208 francs.

other children, are often utterly unable to provide for the newcomer.

LESS SINKABLE SHIP COMING

Hull Consists of Two Parallel Cylin-dical Shells Joined Throughout Length by Diaphragms.

The French government has contracted with the Foundation company, which is building wooden ships for the Emergency Fleet corporation, to turn out for it five cargo "non-sinkable ships" of 4,200 tons dead weight.

The hull of these ships, says the New York Sun, is to consist of two parallel cylindrical shells joined throughout their length by a series of heavily braced diaphragms. Each cylindrical shell is divided not only into watertight compartments by transverse bulkheads, but also is isolated entirely from the adjoining shell and from the sealed space between the two. The latter space, which has a watertight bottom and deck, is not used for cargo, but is provided solely for reserve buoyancy.

"It should not be called an unsinkable ship," said Mr. Boero. "I would call it rather one of the less sinkable ships. It is seldom that a ship has received more than one torpedo.
It is extremely improbable that a ship will be struck by torpedoes on both sides. We have tested an experimental design thoroughly at Paris, and have found it entirely satisfactory. The space required for the special hull construction does not materially lessen the bulk of cargo that can be carried. We are convinced that the ship will keep afloat after it has been torpedoed."

WARNS AGAINST WASTING AIR

Southern Pacific Railway Company
Cites Attention of Employees to a Real Expense.

"Don't waste the air."

This injunction, indicating the passing of the last free commodity known to man, has been added to the conservation program of the Southern Pacific, says Financial America. The attention of thousands of workmen in the railroad shops at Los Angeles, Sacramento and Oakland is being directed to the fact that compressed air, used to drive many machines and tools, represents a real expense. In fact, the "high cost of air" is giving the company economists some concern.

G. W. Rear, general bridge inspector for the company, estimates that a half-inch leak in a compressed-air tank will offset the work of a 75-horse power engine and the cost of a horse power varies from less than a cent to 30 cents per hour, depending upon the size of the plant, amount of attendance, etc. Usually the loss is greater than the money cost, due to decreased output on account of insufficient air supply.

The expression "free as air" has no relevancy in the Southern Pacific shops.

Building the City.

The new and better world after the war, of which we dream these days, will not build itself any more than the rubble which marks the site of Ypres or Louvain will come together of itself into beautiful and splendid buildings, observes a writer. It will take time and struggle and infinite patience, and if men and women are not willing to pay the price of a new and better world, such will not come merely because they have airy visions of it. Much of our talk about better things to come is too cheap and easy and has not enough of grip and purpose to make it worth much. What God is giving us, and will give us in those great after-war days, is a wonderful opportunity, but we must have to meet that opportunity with heroic endeavor and self-sacrificing effort before it can possibly become fruitful. Talk is cheap and dreams are sweet and inspiring, but it is not with these alone that the Kingdom of God is huddled in the earth and mankind is won for righteousness and brotherhood.

Comment From Beet Sugar.

A result of experiments in French factories is the production of an excellent cement as a by-product of beet-sugar refining. The first step in the production of sugar from beets is boiling them. It has heretofore been customary to throw away the useless scum formed on the caldrons. But it has now been discovered that this scum contains large quantities of carbonate of lime. It is estimated that 4,000 tons of the carbonates can be recovered from 70,000 tons of beets.
To this quantity of the carbonate 1,100 tons of clay is added, the resultant product being a good cement. The best scum is pumped into large reservoirs and allowed to evaporate for a certain length of time before being mixed with the clay. It is then stirred or beaten for an hour before being fed into rotary ovens such as are used in making Portland cement.—The Argonnaut.

The Sailor's Widow.

How many people realize the enormous amount of mourning caused every time one of our ships goes down.
But few of the heroes of the sea return disabled to live at home in peace.
It is sheer luck or widowhood for the sailor's wife. It is some comfort to know that several funds provide generously for the widows of the sea, especially for those with babies; and it is touching to learn that the major part of these funds is raised by voluntary subscriptions among the crews who take a great pride in the knowledge that their "mess" cuts a good figure in the subscription lists to sailors' charities.

City Patrolman Siler Says Famous Vin Hepatica Prescription Helped Him Out Considerably.

City nightwatchman J. L. Siler, who resides at 381 N. Bellevue Blvd., after a hunt of five years for something to put his liver in right shape, was considerably rundown until E. C. Philpot, of Nashville, told him to go down to Weiss's Pharmacy, Main & Union Sts., and get a bottle of the great Vin Hepatica prescription and take it.

He at once made a dash for this popular drug store, where he found several others buying this wonderful liver, stomach, kidney, and bowel remedy, and got his first bottle.

"I had been suffering for five years from an inactive liver, had no appetite, was all rundown," said Officer Siler.

"But since taking Vin Hepatica I feel more like doing my work than I have for years. I really enjoy my work now, and I gladly recommend Vin Hepatica to all who need a real tonic."

If you suffer from indigestion, weakness, or any other trouble caused by disordered stomach, liver, kidney, or bowels, or you feel in need of a real good spring tonic, come or send

The Human Factors
In Good Service

There are three parties to every telephone conversation—the party calling, the trained operator, and the party who answers. All three share alike the responsibility for quick and accurate telephone service.

The calling party should give the correct number in a distinct voice, speaking directly into the transmitter, and wait at the telephone until the party answers or the operator reports. The called party should answer promptly.

Patience on the part of the telephone user and the telephone operator is also essential to good service.

THE COMPULSORY SCHOOL LAW.

That there may be no misunderstanding regarding the compulsory school law, as it applies to pupils and patrons, we publish the following provision: The teacher at the end of each week shall report the names of each child between the ages of seven and fourteen years, inclusive, who fails to attend school for three days during that week, to the chairman of trustees or sub-district chairman. Then after an investigation if the parent or guardian refuses to send the child to school, this must be reported to the court, which will issue a warrant for the parent or guardian and try the case as any other criminal case. A great many have reported the cases to Superintendent E. S. Howard. This should not be done as he has no jurisdiction over such cases. Report it to the court. This law should be strictly enforced and save the county the future embarrassment of unnecessary illiteracy.

COUNTY CROP CONDITIONS.

County Agent, W. W. Browder gives us the following review of the county's crop conditions in general, which may be of interest to our readers.

Corn is much improved by the late rains; all late corn and bottom lands will make good crops. Early corn will make a fair crop, the medium plantings having been hurt worse by the drouth than any of it. But all improved from the rains.

Tobacco has improved faster than ever before in the same length of time from the rains, and the prospects now are for one of the finest crops in quality that we have ever had. Only a small percent of the early tobacco is seriously hurt by the drouth. Some early tobacco has been cut and housed.

Sorghums are improving very rapidly but is a short crop.

Tomatoes have not done well this year and the crop seems to be short.

Broon corn bids fair to make a splendid crop.

BOYS AGRICULTURAL SHOW.

The Boy's Agricultural Club, of Ohio County, will have their annual show of pigs, poultry, calves and soy beans, at Hartford on Friday, Sept. 6.

There will be on display some fine Duroc hogs, raised by the boys and girls, and a number of them will be for sale, and anyone needing a good sow or male would do well to be here and buy from these boys and help them in their work by so doing. It is to be hoped that a number of our people will see these products of the Agricultural Club members.

Trouble on Parnassus.

The Poetry Society of America appears to be stumped. Its constitution fails to provide for the dropping of a member except for non-payment of dues.

There is no provision giving power to expel writers of free verse—or even bad verse. And now the executive committee wishes to erase from the society's roster the name of one who has, in his day, written good poetry, but who, it is alleged, has not been so patriotic as the executive committee thinks he should have been. In such dubious cases it is always wise to turn to "Alice in Wonderland," where the King of Hearts reads out rule 140, "one of our oldest rules," which forbade anybody more than 40 feet high attending in a courtroom. Let it be held that the offending poet is physically—not prosodically—too short or too long.—New York Post.

Where He Got the Other.

A Boer who fought with the British forces in the East African campaign was recently operated on for extraction of a bullet. Shortly afterward an English surgeon remarked to him: "By the by, we took two bullets out of you. Did you know there were two?" "Oh, yes," replied the Boer; "one I got from the Germans and the other from you beggars at Colenso."—Manchester Guardian.

GERMAN WEAPONS.

The local editor was fortunate enough to view a real German helmet and bayonet, while in Hopkinsville Saturday. The helmet, which is a distinctive part of the German accoutrement, somewhat resembles the ancient helmets which were worn in mediaeval days, when the breastplate was used. It is made of a substance which resembles copper but is surprisingly light in weight. The bayonet is shaped like a dagger, very sharp, being honed down almost to a feather edge. The point is covered with a suggestive red rust.

These souvenirs were sent over by a young Lieutenant named Moseley, who has met the Hun face to face a number of times. He took them from a German killed in combat, it is said, and sent them to the First National Bank, Hopkinsville, where they are on exhibit.

Messrs. W. B. Chinn and J. H. Burgess, Beaver Dam, were among the Herald's callers Saturday.
